September 10 election

Tories first off the gun

Within minutes of Friday morning's call for a September 10 provincial election, local Conservative candidate Art Ward set his campaign in motion, with Liberal candidate John Eakins not far behind.

Contacted just after Premier David Peterson officially set the date, Ward said he was "spoiling at the gate" in anticipation of this race. He said his campaign was already in full swing, with many signs already planted in lawns and a number of appearances slated for the weekend. He was scheduled to make a draw in Haliburton village that afternoon and another in Minden on Saturday.

The Eakins campaign is just a little slower off the gun. Bruce Glass, Eakins' campaign manager, said it will be about a week before Liberal signs start going up. Because Eakins is a cabinet minister, Glass said he will be expected to make appearances in other ridings. Therefore, Glass said he is waiting to hear when these appearances are slated before he draws a campaign schedule for this riding.

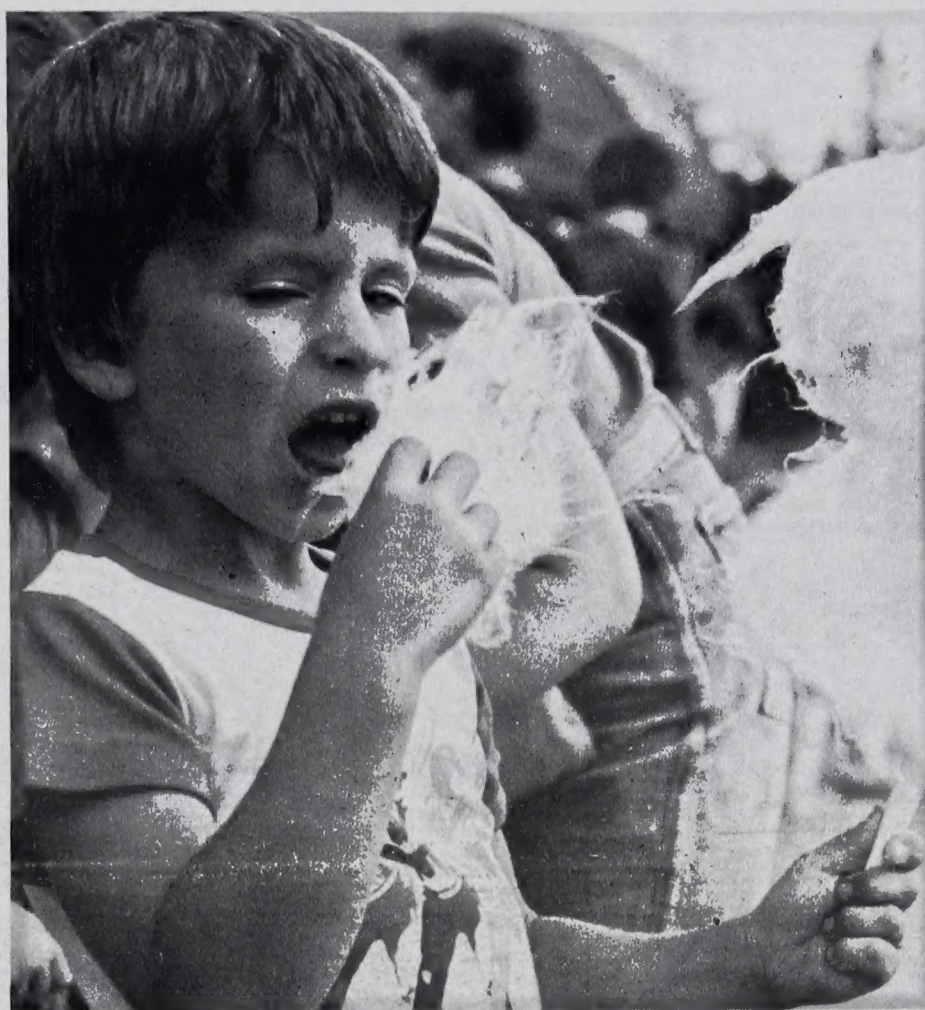

The New Democrats in this riding have yet to choose a candidate for this election.

As the incumbent candidate, Eakins carries the most support into the start of this campaign. However, Glass said the Liberals are not taking anything for granted. "I think there will be an all-out push from the other candidates," he said. "We can't take anything for granted."

Early signs from the "For-Ward" campaign would support Glass' suspicion. Ward knows he is in for a tough fight if he hopes to take this riding and is planning to run a very strong "issue-oriented campaign."

One of the main local issues on which Ward hopes to gain some ground is regarding the planned consolidation of five schools in the northern part of Victoria County. He says "the people are not being listened to" on this matter. Ward favours retaining the five present schools, saying consolidation would be a

Dumps still a problem

Problems with non residents using the Lutterworth Township landfill site continues to be a problem even though signs have been posted at the entrance.

In an effort to restrict the use of the landfill site to township residents, a notice was recently printed in The Times and signs were posted forbidding non residents to use the dump.

However, at Tuesday's meeting, council learned that the problem is not yet resolved. After a recent incident at Little Gull dump where garbage had been dumped at an improper location in the site, the attendant identified the source of the garbage through a label on a magazine cover. The address on this label identified the source as a resident from outside the township.

A letter will be written to this person, indicating that the site is for resident use only.

Heat wave boosts sales

With the hottest July in recent history now behind us, area businesses are still reeling from the effects of the series of heat waves that had area residents looking anywhere for relief.

According to weather records kept by Phil Graham, this July was the hottest in at least the past 20 years. By last Tuesday, the average temperature for the month was 21.8 degrees C. This marks a significant increase from the previous average high of 19.45 C set in 1983.

Graham who has been recording the weather for about 40 years, says this July was the hottest month that he can recall. He says the river temperature, which was up to 27 C on Thursday, is probably the best indicator. This is well above average and surpasses any July readings he has taken since he started keeping records.

While records, such as those kept by Graham, are the most scientific method of gauging the temperature, the severity of the heat experienced last month can also be seen in the increased activity at certain businesses. The demand for heat relief has boosted sales of air conditioners, fans, ice cream and beer to new levels.

As the mercury climbs, so do the line ups at area ice cream stands. Opal Crowe of Kawartha Dairies, says there is little doubt that ice cream sales are better so far this year than at any time in the past.

Steady line-ups

With steady line-ups at the windows throughout the day, she says Kawartha Dairies has not had time to do any sort of comparison with other years. However, she says, it certainly seems busier than other years. "I couldn't say for sure, but we're going through a heck of a lot of ice cream. It looks better, that's for sure."

Crowe says the dairy is having some trouble keeping up with the demand. While it only occasionally runs out of certain flavours of ice cream, she says the dairy could use some more staff to deal with the increased business. "We can't keep up here," she says. "There are line-ups all day long."

A tremendous increase in the sale of ice cubes and blocks at the dairy is another result of all the heat. In past years, the dairy was able to supply its customers with three ice-making machines. This year they added a fourth machine and are still unable to keep up with the demand.

"The machines are going seven days a week, 24 hours a day," says Crowe. Even at that, she says the dairy cannot produce enough ice. "It just stays hot, so the demand stays up all the time." In other years, she says the dairy could build up its ice stock when the weather cooled off, but this summer, the demand has been steady.

Sold out

Local stores that stock air conditioners and electric fans are also having trouble meeting the need for these items. John Pentney, from Minden Home Hardware, says sales of fans and air

Heat relief is in store

The unusual heat experienced throughout July meant soaring temperatures inside the Lutterworth Township offices, forcing council to agree to the purchase of an air conditioning unit.

About a month ago, council voted down a motion requesting air conditioning for the office. However, at last Tuesday's meeting, unanimous support was given to the clerk to purchase a unit.

This change of tack comes on the tail of a series of heat waves that made the past month the hottest July in recent history. The motion to purchase an air conditioner was brought to the table again after the clerk inquired what temperature is required before an office is allowed to shut down.

Although council had given its approval to the purchase on Tuesday, they had not obtained a unit by the end of the week.

As a result of July's heat, suppliers are having problems meeting the unexpected demand for air conditioners and fans.

No air conditioners to be had

Home Hardware sold the last fan from its shelves more than a week ago, and Pentney says he is not sure if the store will be getting any more before the end of the season. With July's heat stretching across the country, the domestic supply of fans and air conditioners has been drained. Pentney says suppliers are hoping to import some, but these will likely be tied up at customs until the demand dies down.

Heating contractors are experiencing a similar increase in business. Ann Barker, whose husband Don, is a heating contractor, says the call for installation of air conditioners has never been as high as this summer.

"Factories are way behind on their orders," says Barker. "It's never been this bad." She says it looks as though her husband will be booked up until September with all the calls.

Thirsty lawns

With the sun burning down on area lawns, turning them a pale shade of brown, Minden residents' water sprinklers have been working overtime putting a strain on the town water supply.

Gene Newell, Chief Water and Sewage Operator, says people have been taxing the system heavily throughout the month. For this reason, he says the township is asking residents to use some discretion with their lawn sprinklers. He says the bylaw restricting lawn watering to every other day will have to be enforced because of the high consumption.

According to Newell, the township's present system is such that a good rain once each week is needed. Otherwise, he says the demand grows too high.

While the heat has at least temporarily subsided, some forecasters are suggesting that August might bring yet more sweltering heat. For those who are still waiting for the next load of air conditioners to arrive, the best heat relief might be a refreshing dip in one of the area lakes.

No, it isn't the furniture. Nor the decor. It's the electrical outlet with its cluster of wires and plugs.

"Octopus" outlets, heavy use of extension cords and blown fuses all point to inadequate wiring. Rewiring and upgrading your home's electrical system is the simple, safety-minded step that will bring your house up to date. You'll have more switches and outlets where you really need them, and better performance from your present appliances and those you'll add in the future.

420 compete in 1987 Yard

His 22 minute, 25 second finish may have been three seconds faster than his overall third place finish two years ago, but Brendan Mathias, 17, of Thornhill, Ontario was still 27 seconds off the course record when he won the 16th running of the Heineken Yard Race on Friday.

One of the organizers noted that it was unusual for a runner in the junior section to win the race. Brendan's victory was doubly impressive because of his youth.

Brendan plans to take a few weeks off before he starts training for another big race, the world cross-country championships, being held this year in New Zealand. He was a member of last year's team which finished fifth in the same competition.

Second place in this year's Yard went to Ken Hamilton of Toronto Olympic Club, while Tim Murphy of Canadian Forces Base Borden was third. Their times were 22:37 and 22:50 respectively.

The race was run under the usual bright sunny skies and warm temperatures with over 420 participating.

Gale Craft was the first woman to complete the 4.6 mile course, covering the distance in 27:47. Shirley Pommier of North Bay placed second at 29:35 while Ina McIntosh was a close third at 29:49.

The following are the top three finishers in each of the classes:

Open Men's: Ken Hamilton 22:37; Tim Murphy 22:50; Gilles Gautreau 23:17.

Open Women's: Gale Grant 27:47; Cory Trout 30:03; Debbie Nelson time not available.

Master Men's: Bob

Moore 24:05; Marcel Crete 25:38; Michael Clewlow 26:26.

Master Women's: Shirley Pommier 29:35; Ina McIntosh 29:49; Ann Baylor 30:20.

Junior Men: Brendan Mathias 22:25; Kelly Veillott 25:18; Scott Nichol 25:35.

Junior Women: Erin Merschenz 32:46; Sibie Picken 34:32; Sharon Homer 35:31.

The winner of the Heineken Cup, presented to the winning team entry, went to Toronto Olympic Club. Members included Ken Hamilton, Bobb Moore and Bruce Trigg.

The Amstel Cup for the winning corporate team entry went to the Royal Ontario Museum Hares. Team members included Marcel Lafleur, Richard Vineyard and Bill Robertson.

The AMICI Cup, presented to the winning camp team, went to Ganesan Kannappan, John Hunt and Scott Nicholl representing C.V.H.

The top ten men finishers and their times: Brendan Mathias 22:25; Ken Hamilton 22:37; Tim Murphy 22:50; Gilles Gautreau 23:17; Jack Lord 23:34; Bob Moore 24:05; Tim Andren 24:06; Tim Caney 24:27; Trevor Shand 24:48; Bruce Trigg 24:51.

The top ten women finishers and their times: Gale Grant 24:47; Shirley Pommier 29:35; Ina McIntosh 29:49; Cory Trout 30:03; Ann Baylor 30:20; Christine Pimm 31:45; Debbie Nelson 31:57; Roslyn Kenrick 31:58; Wendy Robertson 32:18; and Erin Merschenz 32:46.

During the presentation of awards, the organizers of the Yard paid tribute to the contribution made by the proprietor of the Rockcliffe Tavern Dave Willis and the tavern manager Murray Beetlestone. Both received gifts from the committee for their ten years of support and involvement in what has become known as the Haliburton Highlands' most venerable footrace.

Brendan Mathias, 17, proudly displays the plaque presented to him as the over-all winner of the 1987 Heineken Yard.

waste of tax dollars.

On this issue, Glass says Eakins will not likely make a stand. He said local boards of education are in place to make decisions on such matters, and the provincial government should not try to undermine that control. "I don't think John will tell one body how to do its job," Glass said.

Ward says he also plans to take "a tough stand on the environment." Referring to a recent report on the state of septic systems on a number of Haliburton and Muskoka lakes, Ward said he feels the Ministry of the Environment "has smothered the recent report."

"I want to know what the pollution status is on these lakes," said Ward. He said there is a need for a tough stand on waste treatment at cottages and homes.

Glass dismisses this line of thought. He says Environment Minister Jim Bradley has been "open and honest" about environment reports.

Asked what he sees as the issues in this campaign, Glass said Eakins will be stressing the performance of the Liberal government. As Tourism Minister, Eakins has been very aggressive in opening new markets, said Glass. He said the Destinations East program designed by Eakins has proven to be a success in encouraging Canadians to travel "in their own yard."

Both the Liberal and Conservative riding associations report they are in a good financial position for this election. New guidelines regarding election spending will put a ceiling on campaign costs here of about $43,000.

Ward, who has been waging an informal campaign for months, says he will again challenge Eakins to a debate. An earlier challenge was not accepted by Eakins, who refused to debate until an election was called.

While Glass says Eakins will be willing to participate in public debates, he was not sure if the August 15 date would be suitable. Because Eakins will be touring other ridings, Glass said he is not yet ready to make any schedule commitments.

Remember the promises

Late last week, Ontario Premier David Peterson sounded the call for a September 10 election, which immediately set the wheels in motion for what could be a highly interesting local campaign.

Over the next few weeks, Conservative candidate Art Ward and Liberal candidate John Eakins will be pounding the pavement trying to convince us they are best qualified to represent our riding at Queen's Park. While few would question the widespread belief that this election will bring the Liberals back into power, the campaign in this riding could prove to be one of the most interesting in the province.

There is little doubt at this point that Eakins has a strong lead in popularity. However, Ward has nothing to lose by taking a fearless approach to the issues in his campaign. He is promising to wage an "issue-oriented campaign".

Probably one of the main issues to be discussed over the next few weeks will be the Ministry of Education's stand on the planned closure of a number of schools in the northern part of Victoria County. Ward has gone on record as opposing this move, while Eakins has been non-committal.

There are other issues that need addressing, though.

Tourism, the bread and butter of Haliburton County, will be a hot topic, with both candidates well versed in this field.

The development of secondary industry, which is almost non-existent in the county, is another issue on which the candidates should make their positions clear. We should also determine the candidates' commitments to better funding of roads and schools.

Over the next few weeks, promises will likely be flowing like the water down the Gull River. We urge all voters to listen carefully to the platforms and base their decisions on this information.

And after September 10, let's remember the promises and make sure our representative follows through.

The royal butterfly.

Clear Lake residents can answer the bell

"Watson, come here."

This brief message from Alexander Graham Bell, the first ever transported across a telephone line, was met with much excitement. Now, close to 120 years later, a number of Clear Lake residents are getting a chance to have a telephone in their homes for the first time.

Last Saturday morning, residents of Clear Lake

Road in Lutterworth Township were greeted with the hum of a live telephone line for the first time when they picked up their home phones. The installation of phone lines in that area marks the end of a three-and-a-half year struggle with Bell Canada for the residents.

"It's mission accomplished," said Carol Puffer, who spearheaded the drive to have lines installed. After being a summer resident in the area for 13 years, and a permanent resident for over three years, she says it is "just wonderful" to finally have a telephone in her home.

The installation of the poles and lines began early last winter, said Puffer. However, not until July 25 were crews in to make the final connections. She says about ten homes in the area are now hooked up and Bell employees have agreed to work weekends in the Haliburton area so they can catch up on the demand for service here.

Prior to Saturday's hook-up, residents along this two-mile stretch of road between Miner's Bay and Highway 35 were forced to use a pay phone located at the highway intersection.

A survey conducted in 1985 showed that almost 70 per cent of the residents and cottagers in the area wanted phone lines installed. At that time, however, representatives of Bell would make no commitments to a date. They says installation depends on the amount of capital funding available. Evidently, this funding became available and the residents are now enjoying their new phones.

Trent-Severn water report

The recent high temperatures and no precipitation has begun a decline on the reservoir lake levels normal to this time of year. The average percentage of all the lakes was at 71.5% of their full level, still 8.5% below the 10 year average.

The Upper Gull River watershed seems to be suffering the most as evaporation, not additional water drawn from the lakes, has caused levels to drop. The lakes on the Burnt River system are managing somewhat better as they were significantly closer to being at their full levels in the spring. Minimum flows have been maintained on all tributaries to the Kawartha Lakes, as a portion of the surplus gained earlier in July, was used up.

Levels have decreased to near the maximum of their navigation range on the Kawarthas and should remain steady as our weather is influenced by dryer air masses.

Editor:

Your excellent editorial in the July 27 issue of The Times, "1:30 a.m. Lunacy" finally brings to the public attention the increasing, senseless vandalism by a number of our local residents and a very few tourists.

The destruction of property, smoke intensive fireworks displays, invasion of privacy through foul, abusive gutter language in the early morning hours, the very loud playing of ghetto blasters and car stereos, plus the incessant tire squealing all night long, has to stop.

The victims do not cause harm to the offenders but, unfortunately patronize the businesses that employ these impudent characters. Why are these types trying to destroy the hand that feeds them?

Unfortunately the problems are compounded by an overworked, understaffed Police Force, couple with a Municipal Council that apparently does not care.

It is to be hoped that the perpetrators of the anti-social behaviour will use what little intelligence they have and appreciate the fact that sooner or later the victims of their antics may lose all tolerance.

What do you think about...

Soft touch on refugees

Bill Kulas

Canada is beginning to be known around the world as a country with a soft touch. Refugees, be they Turks, Tamils, Sikhs or whatever are entering this country illegally on a more frequent basis. When is the government going to crack down and put a stop to it?

No doubt stricter controls and penalties must be quickly enacted or else recent precedents could result in the flood gates breaking wide open.

For example, take a look at the two ringleaders, the ship's captain and a British Sikh who were responsible for smuggling in the Sikhs. They have been jailed for a year and three months respectively and fined a measly $5,000. Considering that they took in almost half a million dollars in human cargo fees, they are laughing all the way to the bank.

What of the thousands of families in Canada who are trying to sponsor relatives using the legal and proper channels of immigration. In some instances it has taken years to reunite families. These families must surely be very disheartened with recent happenings.

Just last week an executive member of the Canadian Bar Association accused the federal government of "breaking its own laws" as criticism grows over the Department of Immigration's handling and detention of 174 Sikh refugee claimants. This is utter hogwash! The government has every right in the world to screen, detain, interrogate and jail if necessary any of the refugees.

How can you just let 174 people who get into this country by first of all breaking a law and set them free, without first ensuring that they are not criminals, that they are not ill, that they have somewhere to go and that they will not be a burden on society.

The government has handled the situation very well, unlike what others say. The majority of Canadians just want to see the laws toughened so that individuals who want to come to our great land and be Canadians do so legally and not through the back door. Enough is enough. What do you think?

Thanks for support

Editor:

We wish to extend our sincere thanks for your support of the 1987 Haliburton Senior Games.

This year during the month of June we held tournaments in bridge, euchre, golf, cribbage, orienteering, darts, lawn bowling, swimming, 5-pin bowling, horseshoes and shuffleboard. We had over 493 registrations in these events. Approximately 210 people attended our closing ceremonies and luncheon at which time the awards were presented - bronze, silver and gold pins for each game.

In 1988 we will hold our 5th Annual Community Games, with the "Community Games" winners going on to compete in the "All Ontario Senior Games" to be held in Brampton, Ontario. We have a dedicated group of volunteers who had put many hours of planning into this particular event.

The Senior Games encourages the "over 55" group to join in fellowship and sports activities and your support enables us to continue with this worthwhile cause.

Again, our sincere thanks.

Scott addresses refugee issue

I have recently had a number of inquiries with regard to the arrival of the boatload of refugees on July 12.

Specifically, the 174 people who arrived are being processed according to the Immigration and Refugee Determination process presently in effect.

When a dramatic increase in refugee claims began (8,400 claimants in 1985, 18,280 in 1986), partly due to a change of legislation in the United States, our government recognized that abuse of our refugee determination system was occurring. After extensive consultations, earlier this year the government cancelled the blanket policy which provided that we could not deport people to certain countries. This meant that all people claiming refugee status would have to go through our refugee determination system.

The government also realized, in these consultations, that the existing determination system is not adequate to handle the numbers of people claiming to be refugees. However, efforts to address the problem of abuse of our refugee determination system and the unprecedented volume of claimants arriving at our ports of entry must be accomplished within the legal framework of the existing Immigration Act. That is why the government introduced Bill C-55, An Act to amend the Immigration Act, 1976 and to amend other Acts in consequence thereof on May 5, 1987.

Canadian World Youth

Recently, 14 participants in the Canada World Youth program arrived in Haliburton for the first leg of a seven-month exchange program between Pakistan and Canada. During their stay here, The Times will feature two participants in each week's paper.

Featured participants this week are David Chennels and Nayab Rafiq, who are staying with Charlie and Beulah Tyler.

David Chennels

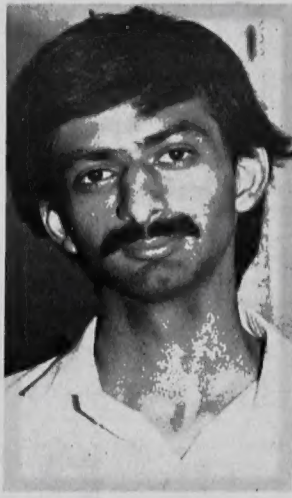

David Chennels is a 20 year old native of Calgary. This spring he completed second year university at McGill in Montreal. Previously he had graduated as Valedictorian from high school in a class of 650 graduates and attended Queen's in Kingston for first year university.

David takes a keen interest in international affairs, particularly in the area of international development. In the second semester of the last school year, he initiated a chapter of the Canadian Save The Children Fund on the McGill campus which went on to raise $1,000 for development projects.

Eventually, David hopes to become a career diplomat or to work within an international body such as the United Nations.

He views Canada World Youth as a wonderful opportunity to experience first hand the realities of a developing area and another culture, providing a great enhancement to his academic education.

Nayab Rafiq

Aslam-u-Alikum, I am a Pakistani participant of Canada World Youth program. My name is Nayab Rafiq which means "a rare friend or a friend which is hard to find and hard to replace." I am a resident of Mirpur Agad Kashmir. I am a student of electronics in University College of Engineering and Technology Mirpur Agad Kashmir.

I have started my 20th year of life on July 15. This time by birthday was celebrated in Canada, thousands of miles away from my loving country and family.

Mirpur is the city in which my beloved family is living. I have three brothers and three sisters. My elder brother is supporting my family. My father died when I was in 8th class of my high school. Since then I am working side by side my studies with my brother in our family business Rose Color Laboratories and Nayab No. 1 Ltd. (Pvt) and Tanaka Pakistan Ltd., (Pvt).

I was selected for this programme on the basis of my academic and extra-curricular activities. I got 3rd position in FSc examination from AJK Education board. I had also won four times the all Agad Kashmir debate competitions. I had been editor of my college magazine for two years.

Now I am living in community of lakes "Haliburton" at a historical old farm "Tyler Farm" with Charlie Tyler's family. I am enjoying my work and trip because the family is very nice to me. Due to this family I came to know that there are still such people in Canada who know

"It's nice to be important But it's more important to be nice."

I am thankful to God who always helps me and I pray to him please help me in finding right path.

Hustler pitcher Jack Snell leans into a swing during the opening game of the Tri-County Men's Fastball League playoffs Thursday at the Minden diamond. The Hustlers defeated Janetville in the opening game 19-17.

Hustlers take opener

The Minden Rockcliffe Hustlers pulled a rabbit out of the hat with a high-scoring third inning to edge Janetville in the opening game of their semi-final series Thursday in Minden.

The Hustlers really got their bats working in the third inning to bring 16 runners across the plate enroute to their 19-17 win.

After taking an early 3-0 lead in the first inning, the Hustlers found themselves in a jackpot as Janetville bounced back with four runs in the second. The visiting team rallied for another eight runs in the top of the third to take a seemingly solid 12-3 lead.

However, the Hustlers put on a rally of their own in the bottom of that inning to put themselves out front 19-12 and held on for the win.

Doug Shaw led the Hustlers at the plate, pounding out two triples. Barry Shaw hit a home run for the winners and Brian Shaw was the winning pitcher.

The next game of the series is tomorrow night

(Tuesday) in Lindsay at 8 p.m.

The Hustlers will see yet more action during the Rockcliffe Invitational Tournament this weekend. Starting Friday night with the Haliburton Legion Juniors taking on Bobcaygeon at 8 p.m., the tournament runs throughout the weekend. The Hustlers will face the Toronto Gingermen Tavern in their first challenge of the tournament Friday at 9:30 p.m. at the Minden Ball Park.

Blames opposition

It was debated at second reading on June 18, 1987 and a legislative committee began studying it on June 26. Every effort was made to have the Bill passed before the end of June. Unfortunately, we could not get the necessary agreement of the opposition parties to do so. Instead, they proposed to stall it for six months or have it withdrawn completely.

As a result, the new refugee determination system is still on hold and cannot be used at this time. It will, when passed, restore the integrity of our immigration program, allowing us to protect our borders from economic migrants who spontaneously arrive on our shores rather than going through the normal immigration selection process at the Canadian Embassy in their own country.

I too was very upset when I heard that another boatload had arrived. I immediately expressed my deep concern to the Minister of Employment and Immigration, the Minister of State (Immigration) and to the Prime Minister. This must be stopped and I urged that this Bill be given the highest priority as soon as possible.

Standards must be met

Unless the private road leading to Beaver Lake from East Moore Lake Road is brought up to Ministry of Transportation and Communications standards, residents in that area are unlikely to get township help in maintaining the road.

A group of 17 Beaver Lake residents was on hand for last Tuesday's meeting of Lutterworth Township Council seeking some help in their ongoing struggle to have the township assume responsibility for the maintenance of the road.

Charles Gerditschke, the group's spokesman, told council he is still waiting for some answers to questions raised at an earlier meeting. To this, Deputy Reeve Carol Puffer replied the township is still waiting to hear back from its solicitor, Fraser Rogers. Apparently he was to have attended a seminar to provide him with better information, but he has yet to report back to council. Puffer noted that a letter has been sent out prompting him to reply.

Gerditschke told council there are 25 cottages on that road with more than 160 cars travelling it regularly. He said the use of the road is dangerous and because of its present condition, "We can't use the road in the winter, and sometimes we can't use it in the summer."

At one point in the discussion, one of the residents polled the individual council members to determine the support for making the private road into a township road. While all members said they are in favour of this, Councillor Al Stott noted that this could not be done without some MTC funding.

Ministry funding is not normally available until a road has been brought up to standards and assumed by the municipality however.

The difficulties now experienced by these residents was created when the developer of the subdivision went out of business. Initially, the developer had an agreement with the township that the road would be brought up to standards and be assumed as a township road. However, the developer went out of business before the transaction took place, leaving the residents in a bind.

Reeve Bill Valentine noted that the township recently assumed East Moore Lake Road, and said its intention was to continue the road through to the top of the hill. However, in order to do this, he said the township would have to purchase 350 feet of property owned by Ingram Wessell. He told the group that the township would be contacting Wessell to see if he is willing to sell the property.

Acid rain report

The following information on acid rain was gathered at the Ministry of Environment Acid Rain testing station in Dorset and compiled by Environment Canada. There were two precipitation events during the latest reporting period:

- on July 19, 3 mm of rain, pH 4.1, from Illinois, Indiana and Michigan.

- on July 24, 2 mm of rain, pH 4.3, from Missouri, Illinois and Michigan.

Environmental damage is usually observed in sensitive areas regularly receiving precipitation with pH less than 4.7. Readings of 4.0 pH or less are considered dangerous. The lower the reading, the more acidic the precipitation.

Across the river tightrope balancing act.

Crew sets world record

A boat filled with refugees drifted into Minden last Wednesday, along the Gull River.

Well, they weren't actually refugees. And it wasn't really a boat that carried them across the river, it was a raft. But it sure was full. So full, in fact, that a Guinness World Record was set.

In all, 25 people climbed aboard a makeshift raft of six inner tubes to journey across the river just below the Sunnybrook Bridge. This feat was accomplished as one of the side attractions to the first-ever Rat Race that coincided with the Minden Rotary Carnival.

Twenty five youngsters crammed aboard the unstable craft in a successful bid to outdo the older folks, who had previously made the trip with 24 on board. This set a world record for a cross of the Gull River on six inner tubes.

The river crossing was a new twist to the annual carnival, and was the idea of Rotarian Bob Austin. Along with the River Rat Race and a tightrope walk across the river, this attraction added a whole new dimension to the carnival. Incidentally, Austin provided some of the ballast in the earlier crossing with 24 people on board.

Hundreds of people were on hand at the river bank throughout the day to watch and participate in the activities. Despite some early troubles in getting enough tension on the rope, the tightrope walk proved to be a very popular event for both the kids and adults.

A prize of $200 was to be had by the person who could cross the rope in the fastest time. As each attempt flawlessly ended with a splash into the river only a few paces along the rope, the competitors became more clever. Someone brought out a long bar to make the balancing a little easier, but even that did not get them across the river. Finally, someone taped a beach ball to the end of the bar and with that end dipped in the water, he made the crossings using the bar as a sort of crutch.

The River Rat Race, the main event of the riverside activities with its $1,800 purse on the line, saw only four teams entered. The rules for this race were simple enough. A team of at least two people was required to take six inner tubes, join them together, and race for about 400 yards down the river to the finish line using only muscle power.

The team of Greg Austin and Wayne Beaver took the first place prize of $1,000 by dragging the tubes behind them as they swam the distance with the help of scuba fins.

After the day of activities at the river, crowds lined the main street for the start of the annual Monster Parade. As usual the parade was highly entertaining with colourful floats, bicycles, horses and marching bands.

The parade itself took most of an hour to pass through the downtown area. And as the final float passed by, the crowds joined in the march up to the arena where a midway was set up and the Molson hot-air balloon was tethered. When people tired with all the rides and games in the midway, they made their way inside the arena to relax with some food and drink and watch an entertaining talent show, featuring some almost-real big-name attractions.

The prizewinners in the talent show are as follows:

- Rebecca Lacroix took top honours in the 12 years and under category, while Maggie Stainton was second and Stacey Walker was third.

- In the 12 to 18 year age group, the competition was so close that the judges could not pick a clear winner. Tied for first place were Lorie Archer and the duo of Terry Fairey and Sheldon Stevenson.

- In the judges' view, John Stainton showed the most talent in the 18 years and over category. Hailey Hamilton finished a close second in this group while Don Lacroix took third prize.

Strung out to wet on across river tightrope.

Watching the parade.

Show beginning to bloom

Floral Isles - August 6 and 7. Exhibitors are now preparing for the Annual Flower Show. Once again those vases and containers will be cleaned up and ready for the show.

Then there will be the constant watch - to pick out the best specimens for the show - no blotches, no missing petals, oh yes, and there must be the correct number in the various categories. There will be vegetables too.

Flowers will require conditioning, hardening etc. Then there is the arranging - and over the bumpy roads to the Minden Community Centre, they go through the test. Each exhibit in its own place, awaits the results of the judge.

This is where you come in - after the judging everyone is welcome! Come to the Minden and District Horticultural Flower Show August 6 from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. and on August 7 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Decorations will be in keeping with this year's theme Floral Isles. You will have a chance on a door prize and refreshments will be served. Don't miss this the highlight for Horticulturists here. For them, the one and only event of the year. Much hard work and planning goes into a show such as this.

The Juniors are all geared up and will have their entries in place. Their garden plants will have been judged by then. We wait for results.

This year visitors at the show can vote on an exhibit they feel is the Best. "The People's Choice Award".

Again this year the committee has not solicited the business people in the area for prizes. However, if anyone feels so inclined - it would be put to good use.

There will be a few moments of special entertainment, following the official opening at 7:30 p.m. August 6. Keep this date in Minden. See you at the show!

A tradition with the Rotary Carnival is that never starts on time. Last Wednesday while hundreds lined up along the main street awaiting the start, a light sprinkling of rain caused some to seek the shelter of umbrellas.

South Lake Association meeting

submitted by
Kenneth Brown
South Lake

"An idea whose time has come" would surely apply to the formation of the South Lake Association of Cottagers and Residents (SLACAR). Certainly, judging by attendance at our third annual meeting held Saturday July 11 when 45 South Lakers gathered in the sweltering heat, we can be sure of the continuation of a vibrant association.

Barbara Lester, our founding president, presided with an agenda of interest and concern to all who live or cottage on our attractive lake just three miles from Minden.

Issues such as water quality, pollution, lake levels and water safety were all examined and will be dealt with on an ongoing basis in conjunction with the Ministry of Environment. Fortunately the water in our spring fed lake is presently of good quality but we need to enlist the aid of all to maintain a satisfactory standard. Specifically, the SLACAR water testing programme will be continued at least six times per year for several more years to identify any trends due to pollution.

New committees have now been formed to create a needed Neighbourhood Watch programme as well as an Emergency Services Identification system for each separate property on the lake.

We were pleased to have a report from Jean Anthon, president of the Federation of Ontario Cottagers Association who touched on a number of matters of vital interest to all in attendance. In fact, so persuasive was Jean that we voted to affiliate with FOCA and lend our support to their good work.

Our membership committee has been hard at work canvassing for 1987-88 dues and new memberships with a target of 80% of all who live and cottage on South Lake.

To celebrate this our third year, there will be a Corn Roast on Saturday, August 15 free to all SLACAR members. What a great chance to meet and greet your neighbours and make new friends. Remember, 4 - 7 p.m. at the home of Phyllis and Kevin DeGrace. Bring the kids for games and fun. The new executive of SLACAR extend their best wishes and will greet you at the corn roast. They are: president Bob Martin, vice-president Pat Hough, secretary Eleanor Lymer, treasurer Gail Rowett and past president Barbara Lester.

Dear Readers,

The weather seems a lot better this last few days. Our church services were conducted Sunday evening by Rev. J. Burgess and Mrs. Burgess and Mr. and Mrs. Thompson. On Tuesday Rev. Kent of Minden Baptist Church had the service.

The C.W.L. ladies of the Minden Catholic Church brought out afternoon tea and it was just lovely. A social time was had by all.

We welcome new resident to Hyland Crest, Mrs. Myles. She is well known here as she lived here at one time.

Mrs. Sutherland is our latest new resident. We hope she will like it here.

I am sorry to report Edith Welch is in Peterborough Hospital but we understand she will soon be able to come home.

Edna Cowan went home with Marie Baker Thursday evening and was going to another daughter on Sunday evening in Mississauga for two weeks. We do hope she will be feeling better on her return.

Ina McGuire had Mr. and Mrs. Art Sisson as her guests on Sunday. Gordon Carr who is quite ill, had his daughter in to see him. Lee Gauthier was in to see her father also. Mr. and Mrs. Cameron from Peterborough were here on Sunday afternoon and were dinner guests of Winnie Barnum. She also had her son Terry on Saturday visiting her.

Caffeine may not be to blame

by Stephen Dawson, M.D.

A very common affliction among several women aged 30 to 50 is the occurrence of painful breast lumps that fluctuate in size and worsen at the premenstrual phase of the cycle. Although these particular masses and cysts are benign, the diagnosis of breast cancer should always be considered until proven otherwise. Mammograms are very useful in the diagnosis as is ultrasound which can differentiate cysts from solid masses.

A good support bra is important. Hormonal treatment is reserved for severe unusual cases.

Danazol, a synthetic androgen (male hormone) is effective at relieving the symptoms but produce undesirable side effects such as hair growth etc., and in general is not used.

We used to tell patients to avoid caffeine (in coffee, tea, chocolate and cola beverages), but recent studies show there is little evidence to support the association between fibrocystic breast disease and caffeine intake.

IN MEMORIAM

WALKER, Derek C.H. - born June 19, 1978 - died August 5, 1978.

There's a page in our book of memories

Is slowly turned today

Of our little boy, born 9 years ago

Then suddenly passed away.

We visit your resting place

And put flowers there with care,

But no one knows the heartache,

When we turn to leave you there.

They say time heals everything,

But we know it isn't so,

Because it hurts as much today,

As it did nine years ago.

So those of you with children,

Cherish them with care,

Because you never know the heartache,

When you no longer have them there.

Sadly missed and never to be forgotten,

Jim and Sharon, Stacey marie, Shane & Kevin.
